The "Little Thunderer" on Greeley's Nomination.

BRITISH PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

Dr. Livingstone's Explorations in Africa.

GEN. SHERMAN'S MOVEMENTS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE PRESS ON GREELEY'S NOMINATION.

LONDON, July 11.—The Times says the nomination of Greeley by the Democracy is a flagrant instance of party demoralization. The Democrats swallowed their opponents' platform and candidates, confessing that they had none of their own. Nobody believes Greeley would be President four months without making some terrible mistake. We cannot believe he will be elected.

The News says his nomination at Baltimore on the first ballot, and at Cincinnati on the sixth, shows that the Democrats were more enthusiastic in his support than the Liberal Republicans. His election, however, will not change the relations of England with America.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION.

LONDON, July 11.—The debate on the motion of Morrison for a second reading of the proportional representation bill was continued until a late hour last night in the House of Commons.

An amendment by Sir Charles Dilke extending the provisions of the bill to Ireland and Scotland was rejected by a vote of 54 against 26.

The House then divided on the motion of Morrison, and it was decided in the negative.

DR. LIVINGSTONE'S EXPLORATIONS.

A dispatch from Aden announces the arrival there of Stanley, the New York Herald correspondent, and says he will start to-day for London, in company with a son of Dr. Livingstone. Stanley is the bearer of letters from the great explorer for the British Goverment, as well as for the family and friends of the long absent Livingstone. Stanley states that when he left the interior of Africa Dr. Livingstone was unwell, but he was, nevertheless, determined to proceed with his explorations, and will not return home until he has completed the great work of ascertaining the source of the Nile.

TESTIMONIAL FOR JOHN BRIGHT.

A delegation from the potteries of Staffordshire called on John Bright to-day and presented him, in appropriate acknowledgment of his many services, with a magnificent testimonial cabinet.

FRANCE.

GEN. SHERMAN'S MOVEMENTS.

PARIS, July 11.—Gen. Sherman and Lieut. Col. Audenreid were presented to the Minister of War, General De Cissey, yesterday. They were subsequently presented to Thiers and the Minister of Foreign Affairs, Count De Remusat. General Sherman was to-day the occupant of Thiers' box in the National Assembly.

FIRE IN METZ.

A telegram from Metz announces the destruction of the prefecture of that city by fire.

SHEPHERDS ATTACKED BY SPANIARDS.

A dispatch from Pau announces that a body of Spaniards had attacked some French shepherds in the mountains on the Spanish borders, and that two of the latter were wounded. A body of infantry has gone in pursuit of the aggressors.

TAX ON SALES.

The Assembly to-day rejected the amendment proposed by the opponents of the tax on raw materials, imposing a tax of one franc per thousand francs on the sales of traders and manufacturers. Many deputies thereupon took occasion to compliment Thiers on the result, which is esteemed a decisive approval of his position upon the question of taxation. The amendment was lost by a vote of 10 yeas to 380 nays.

WEST INDIES.

VALMASEDA'S RESIGNATION.

HAVANA, July 11.—The resignation of Captain General Valmaseda has been accepted. He will deliver the command of the island to his successor to-morrow, and leave for Spain on the 15th inst.

INTENDENTE REMOVED.

It is reported that the intendente of the island has been removed.

SPANIARDS KILLED.

During an engagement between Cubans and the Spanish troops near Halquin, recently, the Spanish Col. Heurta, the Governor of Halquin, and some soldiers were killed by the Cubans.

THE HAYTIAN REVOLUTION.

SAN DOMINGO, July 1.—Baez has abandoned the frontier and withdrawn his forces to Azna. It is reported that he intends to raise more men for the purpose of attacking Cabral again. Cabral is penniless and short of ammunition, and is now within Haytian territory. General Superon has left Port-au-Prince and arrived at Jamaica, having abandoned the project of invading San Domingo by way of the northern frontier.

THE ST. MARC DIFFICULTY.

PORT-AU-PRINCE, July 1.—The difficulty between the American consul and the authorities at St. Marc is ended. The United States Government ordered Bassell, the American Minister to Hayti, to allow the matter to drop, owing to the incorrectness of the Consul's statements.

GERMANY.

BANISHMENT OF JESUITS.

BERLIN, July 11.—The Official Gazette to-day promulgates a law providing for the banishment of Jesuits from Germany. All establishments now under their control must be completely broken up in six months.

SOUTH AMERICA.

THE STEAMER VIRGINIUS.

CARACAS, May 23.—The Spanish man-of-war Arapiles remains at Puerto Cabello, watching the steamer Virginius. It is reported that an American man-of-war has arrived at Puerto Cabello to tow the Virginius to New York.

POLITICAL.

The Baltimore Nominations.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—The Democrat says Greeley is now in form, as well as in fact, the candidate of the regular Democratic organization, and by accepting the Baltimore nomination he will not only sever his connection with the party with which he has heretofore acted but he deliberately repels the support of that small body of well meaning but misguided Republicans whom he has endeavored to hoodwink and lead blind-folded into the Democratic camp. We are neither surprised nor disappointed at the result, for in all political calculations it is quite safe to assume that the leaders of the Democratic party will pursue the course most likely to secure their defeat. It would indicate a reversal of the rules of human conduct to find prudence and sagacity in a class of men whose counsels have placed their party in the attitude of opposition to every measure that has been proposed during the last twelve years for the preservation of the Union, the establishment of the national credit and the extension of civil and political rights.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Times of to-day says that by the action at Baltimore, Greeley becomes the Democratic candidate, and that as such he should receive no Republican votes; that all Democrats will not support him, and that he can have no claim on Republicans or independent voters.

The World says: We bow to the decision of the Democratic National Convention, and loyally accept Greeley as the Democratic candidate for President. Organized bolt, it adds, there will be none; but if hundreds of thousands of dissatisfied Democrats stay away from the polls, the election of Grant would be a foregone conclusion.

Virginia Republican Nominations.

FREDERICKSBURG, July 11.—James B. Senor, of this city, was nominated to-day by acclamation for Congress by the Republican Convention of the first district. Dr. W. W. Douglass, of Richmond county, was elected Presidential elector for the same district, by acclamation.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—A telegram received in this city says W. H. Stowell was nominated for Congress by the regular convention for the fourth district, at Farmville, Va., yesterday. Porter is an independent candidate, having bolted when he found the convention opposed him.

Perfecting Republican Organizations in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, July 11.—The Republican Executive Committee are hard at work perfecting their organization throughout the State. Local committees in different counties of the State say their organization will be more perfect than ever before. The State Committee have decided not to commence the campaign until between the 15th and 20th of August, when they will hold a series of meetings with prominent speakers in all the prominent cities of the State.

Arkansas (Clayton) Republican Convention Called.

LITTLE ROCK, July 11.—The Clayton Republican State Central Committee met yesterday, and called a State Convention for August 21, to nominate candidates for State officers.

Another Flag for Grant.

BANGOR, Me., July 11.—The Republicans of this city threw out a second flag to-day bearing the name of Grant and Wilson—one of the finest ever displayed in the State.

INDIANA.

Fearful Explosion of Gas.

MADISON, IND., July 11.—About seven o'clock this morning an explosion of gas occurred in the cellar attached to Conway's Cottage Saloon, on Second street. A colored man named Elias Wallace, employed in the saloon, started to enter the cellar for some purpose, carrying a lighted lamp. No sooner did the gas come in contact with the lamp than an explosion took place. Wallace was burned in a most horrible manner. His head is literally destitute of hair, while his shoulders, arms and hands are an immense burn. Bertha Johnson, a colored child, fourteen months old, sitting on the floor of the room above the cellar where the explosion occurred, was so badly injured that she has since died. The floor was torn up and the building otherwise damaged by the shock.

NEW YORK.

Trial of Stokes.

WHAT CAUSED FISK'S DEATH?

Shock or Morphine?

NEW YORK, July 11, 1872.

TRIAL OF STOKES.

In Stokes' case Doctors Tripler, Shine, and Buck were examined this morning, principally as to the administration of morphine to Fisk.

Dr. Shine, for the defense, testified that they administered one hundred and twenty or one hundred and thirty minims of a solution of morphine, and Fisk's condition became such that they had to desist.

Mr. McKeon wanted to show the bad condition of the probe used on the deceased. Excluded.

On cross-examination, Dr. Buck said Fisk's death was not exclusively from shock, and again that he would have died at any rate of the pistol wound.

Dr. Sayre did not think too much opium was given; Dr. Sayre did not consult with Carnochan, who was a witness for Stokes, and Carnochan having animadverted on witness, witness retaliated by charging Carnochan with stealing dry goods from quarantine.

The counsel for the defense protested against such an attack, saying it was turning the court into a beer garden.

Dr. Hammond testified as to giving opium. Witness conclued the fact of Fisk awakening on the morning of his death, and asking for a drink of water, conclusive that he did not die of morphine, the essential condition of opium poisoning (stupor) being absent.

Powers, proprietor, and Crockett, clerk of the Grand Central, testified that they passed through the hall shortly after the shooting, but saw no pistol.

Patrick Hart and John Redmond recalled. Neither saw a pistol in the hall.

Defense then called Dr. Howard in rebuttal of the rebutting evidence of the prosecution. On being shown Dr. Tripler's probe he said it was broken in two places, and unsafe for use, and might produce bad effects by probing a wound with it. The probe, if not broken at the time of using, could produce no bad effect; being broken at the top end it would render the probe less efficient, the necessary rotary motion not being able to be given.

Henry G. Corley, parlor man, called for the defense, testified, in answer to Mr. Daly. Patrick Hart said to me, "We will make plenty of money out of this." He also said that the bullet found fitted one of the pistols, but did not get the other. I cannot say at what time he said this. It was the same evening. There were a good many people around. It was about two hours and a half after the shooting. I can't say who was present. I never said anything about it until last Sunday, when I told it to Bowers. Hart said the bullet fits the black pistol found on the stairs (Stokes' pistol), but does not fit the other pistol. I only spoke once to Mr. Daly about this. It was at the Grand Central Hotel. I had only one conversation with Hart about this affair, and never told any one about it until last Sunday.

Mr. Tremain then commenced to sum up for the defense at half past two.

INSANE.

The jury in the case of James Burns, charged with the murder of John Halleran, after deliberating nearly two hours, returned the following verdict "Not guilty, on the ground that the prisoner was insane at the time of the commission of the act." The Recorder made an order committing the prisoner to the State Lunatic Asylum.

SOUTH CAROLINA BONDHOLDERS.

An adjourned meeting of the South Carolina bondholders to-day was attended by representatives of four millions, and a committee appointed, with power to solicit the co-operation of all holders of bonds in an attempt to collect past due coupons, and also to obtain subscriptions for expenses to employ counsel.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

It is reported that in the event of Gov. Hoffman declining to run again, the probable candidate of the Democratic and Liberal Republican parties for the Governorship this fall will be F. Kernan, of Utica.

The Prussian army is the finest in the world. It is a perfect machine of war. Of American politics, he says: I think Grant is going to win this election. I don't see who's to stand against him."

ST. LOUIS.

Journalistic.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Stetson Hutchins, manager and one-third proprietor of the Daily Times of this city, to-day sold his interest in that paper to Henry Ewing, one of the members of the firm, for fifty thousand dollars. Ewing now owns two-thirds of the Times.

GENERAL SHERMAN.

A Curious Story from Berlin.

NEW YORK July 11.—A Berlin correspondent (June 8) of the Tribune tells this curious story: Gen. Sherman has just left Berlin, after a conspicuously brief visit, and young Grant will leave to-day. The General was very indignant at the lack of attention which he experienced from the court, and no doubt will nurse his wrath to keep it warm. Under the impression that he has a good, honest grievance, he will say, with truth, that he went to call on Von Moltke, whose rank corresponds with his own, on the very day of his arrival; that Von Moltke did not return his visit for three or four days; that Bancroft, the American envoy, notified the Emperor's aid, General Schwartzkoppen, that Sherman would be happy to pay his respects to the Emperor; that Sherman called promptly on Schwartzkoppen on the day of his arrival, and expressed a desire to see the Emperor; that he never pretended that he had no uniform, though on this visit he was in civilian's dress, and that to these announcements Bancroft sent a reply the following day to the effect that the Emperor had no objection to receive Sherman. Bancroft advised General Sherman not to accept the privilege on such terms. I am told, at all events, that Sherman did not, but pleaded his engagements.

The German side of the answer to the statements of Gen. Sherman is that he had no right to ask an audience of the Emperor except in his character of General and in the uniform of his rank. The etiquette of the Prussian Court on this subject is as old as the monarchy; that Sherman dined in uniform at Bancroft's on the night that Schwartzkoppen's answer was received, and Schwartzkoppen was present and called attention to the fact that General Sherman is the highest representative in the field of the American Government, which supplied the enemies of Germany with arms during the war of 1870 and 1871. He is likewise well known here for his pronounced proclivities for France then and since, and had therefore no right to expect from this Government any but purely official civilities.

This is the case on both sides so far as it is yet developed.

WEST VIRGINIA.

A Railway Train Precipitated into the River.

GREEN BRIER, White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., July 11.—A serious accident occurred this morning on the railroad, fifteen miles from here. As a construction train was passing over the second crossing of Green Brier river a temporary bridge gave way, precipitating the train into the river and completely wrecking the engine and two material cars. The engineer, named Upshaw, was instantly killed. Four laborers were instantly killed and five wounded. The accident occurred on that portion of the road west of this place in the course of construction towards the Ohio river, and not open to the traveling public.

Later.—Seven persons were killed by the railroad accident this morning. Seven were severely wounded, some of whom will probably die. Those killed and wounded were colored, with the exception of the engineer, conductor, and Mr. Myers, a citizen of this place.

THE COAL SUPPLY.

The Straitsville Coal—Its Claims on Cincinnati—Proposed Extension of Railroads.

The following correspondence is published in Wednesday's Cincinnati Commercial, and as it bears upon the important question of the coal supply, it cannot but be interesting:

NEWARK, O., July 8, 1872.

It is worthy of note that while the subject of a future supply of coal is of daily consideration in your columns, that of quality is rarely mentioned. Apparently it is regarded as of little moment whether two bushels of coal from one locality contains as much latent heat as four from another, or whether the article is largely composed of sulphur and other impurities or is free from them.

Your Pomeroy correspondent, in your issue of the 4th inst., did say of the coal of that locality, that "some may object to the quality of our coal," but generally inquiry stops at quantity, without reference to the character of the proposed supply.

Ohio has one district in which the coal is superior to all others within its borders, and although the development of this region has but recently commenced, this statement is being daily verified.

The "Straitsville coal" possesses those distinctive characteristics as regards purity and great heating power that will render it a powerful element in the success of all those industries where the value of such a fuel is felt.

This coal is thirty miles nearer Cincinnati (i. e. 160 miles) than Cleveland by the present route of transit, yet it is now being used in the blast furnaces of that city, in direct competition with the favorite Mahoning Valley coal—a fact that those familiar with the manipulation of iron will readily appreciate, especially when we remember that to Mahoning Valley coal, more than to all else, is the rapid growth and prosperity of Cleveland due.

The most practicable and efficient manner of reaching this coal from Cincinnati, is by extending the present Branch of the Marietta and Cincinnati Railway from Mineral City northward ten miles to the Valley of Snow Fork, in Ward Township, Hocking County, where the coal is from nine to twelve feet in thickness, or three or four times as thick as the ordinary bituminous coal seams from which your city receives its supply.

The following claims are made for this locality, as a source of supply from your city, and certainly deserve attention:

First.—That the coal for purity, heating power and shipping qualities, has no equal.

Second.—That it is nearer your market than any other coal that approaches it in quality; Ashland, Kentucky, perhaps excepted.

Third.—That it involves the construction of but ten miles of new road to give access to the field over a well stocked road.

Fourth.—That it can be mined cheaper than the ordinary coal, on account of the unusual thickness, and for that reason will bear longer transportation.

Fifth.—That Cincinnati must have a fuel of this character, and by a reliable channel.

The Pittsburgh cotemporaries make 14 cents per bushel as the minimum at which their coal can be sold in your market. This coal, after the construction of the proposed branch, at even the present rates for transportation and mining, could be placed in your city at that figure, and leave a good margin for the operator.

Lower rates of freight and reduced cost of mining would undoubtedly follow the development of this trade, as it must become enormous when fairly inaugurated.

The proposition to extend the branch from Mineral City into this coal is one that certainly deserves the consideration of all who have an interest in the future prosperity of Cincinnati, and is one that merits investigation.

Respectfully, I. B. R.

Street Railway Decision.

In the recent case of Schneider vs. the Brooklyn City Railway Company, the following facts appeared: The defendants so overloaded their car that there was no room for the plaintiff within it, or upon the rear platform. He was a boy of thirteen years of age, and was told by the defendant's conductor to get upon the front platform. This he, with two other boys, did. In addition, there were one or two others on the front platform, when the plaintiff and his companions got on. When the car got near the Prospect Park gate, there was a rush of passengers from within the car upon the platform, and the plaintiff was shoved off, but reinstated himself upon the platform without injury. Another rush was made by the passengers from within upon the front platform, and the boy was shoved off a second time. His foot passed under the wheel, and was destroyed permanently. The plaintiff recovered a verdict against the defendants, and on an appeal Judge Barnard, held, the court properly refused to nonsuit the plaintiff, and the facts proven will uphold the verdict. Though the front platform is a place of great danger, the boy was not negligent in being there at the request and direction of the conductor, if the car was full inside. The company's negligence is made out when it permits it to be possible for the passengers of a crowded car to rush upon the forward platform, where three or four boys are standing, while the car is in motion, and thus produce this almost inevitable result. Passengers are forbidden to get on or off the front platform, because of the danger, and yet a crowded car full of passengers are permitted to rush upon it after the company have put small boys there, whereby one of the boys is carried under the wheels of the moving car, and injured for life. The company did not take that care of the boy which the law gave him the right to receive. Judgment affirmed.

Reform at Mt. Vernon.

[From the Washington Star.]

Colonel McH. Hollingsworth, of Georgetown, recently appointed Superintendent of the Mount Vernon estate, has begun his duties by dispensing with the services of the three female Secretaries. As the accounts might very well be kept in a small sized memorandum book, and the correspondence is not large, it is not believed the interests of the estate will suffer greatly from this reduction of force. Other reductions in the pay-roll, by lopping off sinecures have been made, effecting a very considerable saving. As it has been currently reported that some of the female officers who lived with their families on the estate had the names of members of said families on the pay-rolls, whose duties were not very strictly defined and were certainly not very arduous, it is not to be presumed that the new Superintendent will look into the matter, if he has not already done so, as he has the requisite nerve to apply the pruning knife where required. Colonel Hollingsworth is a Marylander, but well known in this district, having resided in Georgetown for a long time. He was for many years Collector of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal at the Georgetown office.

Startling Facts.

Since the close of the rebellion not less than twenty-three thousand persons, black and white, have been scourged, banished or murdered by the Ku-Klux Klans of the South. The victims of their horrible barbarity have been Republicans. Not a single Democrat has suffered. Loyalty to the United States Government brought persecution; disloyalty exemption.

Since the enforcement of the Ku-Klux acts by the present administration, peace and security have reigned throughout these States infested by the Klans. The defeat of this administration will be the renewal of these organizations, and a repetition of past outrages. Is there a Republican in the land base enough to be a party to so great a wrong? Millions of loyal men and women South are depending on our party and its strong arm of justice for continued protection. The Government must protect them.

EXPLANATORY CIRCULAR.

WASHINGTON, JULY 11, 1872.

POSTAL SERVICE EXTENSION.

An extension of the postal service was ordered to-day on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad, between Connover and Decorah, Iowa.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

Clear and partly cloudy weather will generally prevail on Friday over the New England and Middle States, with light to fresh westerly winds. The telegraphic reports for the evening have not as yet been received from Alabama to southern Ohio and Michigan and westward, but pleasant weather will probably prevail from the lower Missouri Valley to the upper lakes, with westerly winds.

GOVERNMENT BUILDING AT CHICAGO.

The Attorney General, Postmaster General and Secretary of the Treasury met to-day at the rooms of the latter, to consider the plans of a new building to be erected at Chicago, for which Congress appropriated last winter four million dollars. Twelve hundred thousand dollars were spent in buying real estate. This hardly leaves a sufficient balance to erect such a building as Mr. Mullett has designed. The commission adjourned until to-morrow without taking any action on the subject.

SOLDIERS' AND SAILORS' HOMESTEADS.

Commissioner Drummond, of the Land Office, has issued a circular explaining what is allowed to soldiers and sailors under the act of Congress of June 8, 1872. He has also prepared a complete set of rules and regulations governing the entry of lands under this act, which can be obtained on application to the Commissioner, or to any of the registers or receivers of land offices. The circular is as follows:

This law allows:

First.—Every soldier and officer of the army, and every seaman, marine and officer of the navy, who served for not less than ninety days in the army or navy of the United States "during the recent rebellion," and who was honorably discharged, and has remained loyal to the Government, to enter, under the provisions of the Homestead law, 160 acres of the public land, including the double minimum lands.

Second.—That the time of service, or the whole term of enlistment, when discharged on account of wounds or disability, shall be deducted from the time heretofore required to perfect title: Provided, however, that the person shall reside upon, improve and cultivate his homestead for a period of at least one year after he shall commence his improvements. It is required that the period (whether one year or more) of actual residence, improvement and cultivation that may be found necessary to perfect each case of entry under this act, shall follow immediately upon the date of entry.

Third.—That any person entitled to the benefit of this act, and who has heretofore made a homestead entry of less than one hundred and sixty acres, may enter under this act an additional quantity of land contiguous to the first entry, which shall make in the aggregate one hundred and sixty acres.

Fourth.—That the widow, if unmarried, or in case of her death or marriage, then the minor orphan children of a person who would be entitled to the benefits of this act, may enter lands under its provisions; with the additional privilege accorded, that if the person died during his term of enlistment, the widow, or minor children, shall have the benefit of the whole term of enlistment.

Fifth.—That where a person may heretofore have made an entry under the Homestead laws while in the United States military or naval service, or before entering such service, the time of service shall be equivalent to a residence for the same length of time upon the tract so entered: Provided, that the party shall show at least one year's continued residence upon, and improvement and cultivation of, the tract. The law also reinstates such entries as have been canceled because of the party's absence from the land while in the military or naval service, provided the land has not been disposed of. And where it has been disposed of, the statute authorizes another entry and the application to the second entry of the proofs touching his residence and improvement on the first tract.

Sixth.—That any person entitled to the benefit of this act may file his claim for a tract of land through an agent, and shall have six months thereafter within which to make his entry and commence his settlement and improvement upon the land.

CINCINNATI.

Rev. Browne's Case—Stove Manufacturers' Convention—Heavy Rain—Wealth of the County—New Rule in the Chamber of Commerce.

CINCINNATI, July 11.—The case of Rev. Samuel J. Browne, charged with killing the boy Schick last Sunday, came up to-day before Judge Straub, and the prisoner was held to bail in fifty thousand dollars to answer before the Grand Jury on a charge of murder in the second degree.

STOVE MANUFACTURERS' CONVENTION.

The National Convention of Stove Manufacturers continued their session to-day. They designated a person in each important city and a number of States to select memberships among the manufacturers of his locality. The report of the Committee on the State of Trade was presented and adopted. It sets forth that the trade was never in a better condition than now; that the stock of stoves has seldom been as small as now, and the prospect for the future was highly favorable. Resolutions were adopted postponing the appointment of permanent secretary and the question of freight till the next meeting, and providing for a committee on local organization and for the settlement of difficulties between the members. The committee having in charge the bill for the better security of property in patterns was requested to urge its passage at the next Congress. The Association declared an advance on the price of stoves as inevitable at an early day, provided the present cost of pig iron and production continued.

The Convention adjourned to meet in Pittsburgh on the second Wednesday in January next.

The members were taken to the suburbs and other places of interest this afternoon.

HEAVY RAIN.

A heavy rain at three o'clock this morning did considerable damage to sewers and unfinished buildings.

WEALTH OF THE COUNTY.

The total value of personal property, moneys and credits of this county is $64,000,000.

NEW RULE IN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The officers of the Chamber of Commerce to-day announced a new rule, providing that in contracts for the delivery of one hundred barrels of mess pork, or one hundred tierces of lard, not less than the full quantity of the same brand would constitute a delivery; in contracts for a larger quantity, not less than fifty of each of the same brand would be sufficient delivery unless the terms of the contract otherwise allowed.

SPORTING.

Aquatic.

HALIFAX, July 11.—The Digby crew won the four-oared race. The St. Johns crew was second and the Halifax crew third.

ERIE, PA., July 11.—The weather was pleasant, with rather a fresh breeze, and the water somewhat lumpy. A large number of spectators was present. Four-oared shell race, a mile and a half and return; two entries; Wahwah Sums, of Saginaw, and Neptune, of East Saginaw. Just before the end the Neptune withdrew, claiming that the water was too rough. The Wahwah Sums pulled over the course alone in 24:46½.

Working and pleasure boat race, open to all, three-fourths of a mile and return; four entries, J. D. Paash winner; time 18:10.

Six oared shell race; three entries; Wahwah Sums, Neptune and Undine, of Erie; distance one and one-half miles and return. The Neptunes again refused to row. Great indignation was expressed at their conduct. The Wahwah Sums came in first, time 19:17¼; Undines second, 20:26¼. The Undines are greatly inferior in size, strength and weight to the brawny lumbermen, and the latter were easily the winners.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

Cotton Caterpillars.

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 11.—Trustworthy accounts have been received here of the appearance of the first and second broods of caterpillars in the cotton along the coast. They are thinly scattered in every field. This is one week earlier than their appearance in the same section in 1868, when they were exceedingly destructive. Planters entertain grave apprehensions that the present showery weather will develop them rapidly.

PHILADELPHIA.

Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—This evening a fire broke out in the establishment of J. S. Martin, No. 21 South Seventh street. The lower floor was used by the Keystone Collar Company, the second by J. B. S. Kelly & Co., book publishers, and the fourth and fifth stories by Martin as a stereotype foundry. All lose heavily, but are insured.

ON THE BEACH.

How Time Flies at Long Branch.

DANCING THE HOURS AWAY.

Notes from the Ball Room.

The summer solstice is now in all its glory madly reaching out its scorching rays, stealing away the last glimmer of strength left tired, suffocating citizens. Melting humanity makes a rush to the country or sea-side. Landlords blandly smile as they listen to the touching pean "the cry is still they come. A prosperous season is expected, one offering splendid opportunities for fun and match-making.

And who can complain at all this rest and rural enjoyment. Should it not be so? Recreation and relaxation are essential to life and a clear brain. Æsop's anecdote of the unstrung bow tells the whole story: "The mind of man, like the bow, if always bent, would in the end loose its elasticity and become useless; by giving it occasional freedom you preserve its tone, and it will serve your purpose." It is a self-evident fact that rest and pastime are necessary for the promotion of man's intellect. And what a splendid opportunity tired, overtaxed mortals have in refreshing and recuperating exhausted energies at the Branch—the gayest spot in America, the center of attraction. The grand old ocean is a never-ceasing source of delight; a subject constantly suggesting new ideas; and, like the great battle of life, ever in commotion, ever restless, ever dashing with mad fury its white-tufted waves upon the barren shore.

A gaily dressed and merily chatting throng of gentlemen and ladies have been all the morning walking up and down the shore, and the ball was the great subject of conversation. Of course everybody was busy. Messrs. Leland, and the grand army of servants were rushing about from one end of the place to the other. The extensive galleries were handsomely decorated with rustic baskets filled with boquets of flowers. Some were suspended between the archways, others adorned the pillars, and some festoons beautified the interior of the building.

THE GRAND SALOON.

This spacious room is magnificently furnished. A costly Moquette carpet covers the floor. The pattern of this attractive floor ornament is cunning workmanship, and designed by special order of Messrs. Leland. The medallions are formed by a succession of wreaths, most happily arranged the centre of each medallion is composed of a cluster of flowers. The furniture corresponds in style with the carpet, the upholstery consisting of a brocatel in green and gold, French mirrors reflecting the richness of the "tout ensemble." The reception room was also handsomely fitted up for the occasion. At night, when the thousands of gas jets were lighted, sending forth their bright rays, the scene was indeed a fairy-like one, and the mind recalled all the gorgeous magnificence that so dazzled and bewildered our imaginations when in childhood days we so eagerly perused the "Arabian Nights'" enchanting stories.

THE DEAR BUTTERFLIES.

how their poor little hearts did beat with excitement, and what a rushing to and fro, what unpacking of budgets "just arrived," and what scowls and stamping of tiny feet when the said budget did not arrive, but came "O, my, so late, I gave the wretched dress up for lost."

"Now, do tell me, Mrs. Fitzmuggins, what I shall wear. I am told that the night will be a gay one; would you put on that dress imported by the Tilmans; it is very elegant, and not too grand for the occasion." And Miss K—s looked really puzzled.

"Well, my dear," replied the ancient elegante, "I would wear my very best if I were you."

And so the day swiftly passed with the ladies, all anxiously getting ready for the refined sport of the evening. Freeting's band, with twenty-five pieces of music, were also practicing, rehearsing and putting themselves in trim order. Black dress, mits, with swallow tailed coats and white vests were the uniform, each one also figured in a delecate necktie of white cambric, tied in a natty bow with ends garnished in muslin lace. Every member of the celebrated band can boast of a fine form and handsome face. Mr. Freeling is the perfection of neatness and elegance of style. The programme for the dancing was well arranged, and admirably carried out. The grand march pealing forth upon the air with its enlivened strains was the signal that the evening fun had fairly commenced. Major W. W. Leland, with his handsome daughter, Miss Hattie Leland, opened the ball at the head of the grand march.

A COQUET OF BEAUTIES.

An ancient writer once remarked that "beautiful ladies were exotics personified." Possibly there is some truth in the saying, at all events the similis is not without loveliness. Sweet perfumes will certainly lull the senses, put the brain into a drowsy repose, quietly drawing before the mimic eye a captivating picture of some Titanic bower, with the fair one listening to words of love. But should the perfume be too powerful the senses are crazed, the mind becomes bewildered and possibly death strides in to claim the victim. An so can a beautiful woman enchant or derange the mind of man.

FIRESIDE TOPICS.

No ornament is so appropriate for the dinner table or mantle as a vase of flowers. If a small quantity of spirits of camphor is placed in the water contained in the vase, the color and freshness of the flower will remain for a much longer period.

THE Chinese carte de visite is a curiosity. It consists of a bright scarlet paper, with the owner's name inscribed in large letters. For extra grand occasions this card is folded ten times, the name is written on the right hand lower corner, with a humiliating prefix, like "your very stupid brother;" "your unworthy friend who bows his head and pays his respects," &c., the words "your stupid" taking the place of "yours respectfully." It is etiquette to return these cards to the visitors, it being presumable that the expense is too great for general distribution.

ABOVE every other feature that adorns the female character, delicacy stands foremost within the province of good taste. Not that delicacy which is perpetually in quest of something to be ashamed of, which makes merit of a blush, and simpers at the false construction which its own ingenuity has put upon an innocent remark. This spurious kind of delicacy is as far removed from good taste, as from good sense; but the high minded delicacy which maintains its pure undeviating walk alike amongst women as in the society of men, which shrinks from no necessary duty, and can speak when required with seriousness and kindness of things at which it would be ashamed to smile or blush.

IT is wonderful to what an extent people believe happiness depends on not being obliged to labor. Honest, hearty, contented labor, is the only source of happiness, as well as the only guarantee of life. The gloom of misanthropy is not only a great destroyer of happiness we might have, but it tends to destroy life itself. Idleness and luxury produce premature decay much faster than many trades regarded as the most exhaustive and fatal to longevity. Labor in general, instead of shortening the term of life actually increases it. It is the lack of occupation that annually destroys so many of the wealthy, who, having nothing to do, play the part of drones and like them make a speedy exit, while the busy bee fills out its day in usefulness and honor.

THE impression prevails among those who use freely fruits which are put up in tin cans, that they are injured thereby, and this impression is in many cases correct. We have long contended that all preserved fruits and vegetables should be stored in glass, and that no metal of any kind should be brought in contact with them. All fruits contain more or less vegetable acids, and others that are highly corrosive are often formed by fermentation, and the metallic vessels are considerably acted upon. The tin cans are held together by solder, an alloy into which lead enters largely. This metal is easily corroded by vegetable acids, and poisonous salts are formed. Undoubtedly many persons are greatly injured by eating tomatoes, peaches, etc., and we advise all our friends who contemplate putting up fruits the present summer to use only glass jars for the purpose.

IN one respect the brain is like land—if you want a good crop from it, you must let it lie fallow for a time. There are harvest times for it, which ought to be noted. After a good night's rest, and a cup of coffee or tea, it will yield its best of a certain kind; use it then in matters which require grasp, strong reasoning and force of expression. Use it as little as possible from two P. M. to seven or half-past; then, until ten o'clock, begin to reap what it will yield in poetic idea and thought, when imagination hangs out her lamps, and the ghosts in the churchyard begin to stir. Retire to sleep—never later than eleven, if possible—without a glass of whisky; if you cannot sleep, take a pint of porter. And remember this always, as regards sleeping and everything else, poetry included, that it is much better to do a little well than to do a great deal badly.

SET flowers on your table—a whole nosegay if you can get it, or but two or three, or a single flower—a rose, a pink, a daisy. Bring a few buttercups from your last field work, and keep them alive in a little water; aye, preserve but a bunch of clover or a handful of flowering grass, one of the most elegant of nature's productions, and you have something on your table to remind you of God's creation, and give you a link with the poets that have done it most honor. Put a rose, or a lily, or violet on your table, and you and Lord Bacon have a custom in common, for this great and wise man was in the habit of having flowers, in season, set upon his table, we believe, morning, noon, and night—that is to say for all his meals, for dinner, in his time, was taken at noon—and why should he not have flowers at all meals, seeing that they were growing all day. Now here is a fashion that will last forever, if you please—never changes with silks, velvet, and silver forks, nor dependent upon caprice and changes to give them importance and a sensation. Flowers on the morning tables are especially suited to them. They look like happy wakening of creation; they bring the perfumes of the breath of nature into your room; they seem the very representative and embodiment of the very smile of your home, the graces of its good morrow, proofs that some intellectual beauties are in ourselves, or those about us, some Aurora (if we are so lucky as to have such a companion) helping to strew our lives with sweetness, or in ourselves some masculine wilderness not unworthy to possess such a companion or unlikely to gain her.

Her reappearance has a mournful aspect, but there is some satisfaction in the reflection that it is not an instance of the fickleness of public favor. Pupils have been found for this once famous dancer.

THE Fire Department of Erie in company with other departments of North western Pennsylvania, have been invited by their brethren of Meadville, to participate in a grand celebration to be held at that town on the first of August. About half the Erie force, under Chief Irwin, will attend.

THE recent heavy rains have caused a considerable amount of damage to the roads and bridges in the vicinity of Somerset. Several hundred cross-ties, belonging to Croder & Davis, were washed away by the flood. Old citizens say it was the heaviest fall of rain that they have known for twenty years.

HARVEST is now fairly on us, says the Greensburgh Herald. Our farmers are busily engaged in cutting wheat, which is nearly all ripe and ready for the reaper, nine-tenths of which will be cut this week. The grain is very fine, although in some places the straw is very short. The weather is very fine and if it remains dry one week more the greater part will be gathered into the barns. From present appearances the labor of the husbandman will be liberaly rewarded.

Nonsensical Talk About Hard Times.

The Merrimac Journal, in discussing the labor question, says: There are a thousand million dollars in the savings banks of this country, chiefly the deposits of labor, and yet labor is striking for higher wages. Since the world began there has never been an age or a clime, a country or a nation where labor was in so much demand and so well rewarded as it is in this country to-day. There is no person out of work who cannot find employment if he has the skill and will to work; and there is no man in health, unless he has a large family—and that is wealth enough of itself to satisfy anybody—who cannot be among the savings banks depositors, laying up something for a "rainy day." Wages for common labor are two dollars a day, and for skilled mechanics three and four dollars, and in the cities, for some classes, five; if a workingman can't get rich at that he has only himself to blame. It is blasphemy for him to talk about hard times. Professional men are not so well paid, relatively. As compared with mechanics' wages, school teachers, clergymen, physicians and lawyers are poorly paid. They don't average as much as first-class printers, machinists, bricklayers, blacksmiths, shoemakers, or carriage makers. Skilled hands earn more than educated brains.

How He Won Her.

This is the way Professor Fawcett, the famous blind Liberal member of the British Parliament, became acquainted with his wife: He was at a social gathering on the evening of the day when the telegram announced the death of President Lincoln, and heard from a girl of eighteen the exclamation, "It would have been less loss to the world if every crowned head of Europe had fallen;" He asked to be introduced to this girl, who has been his wife for five years, and is the most popular speaker and woman in England.

The Louisville Ledger thus notices a rising young vocalist: "The person alluded to is a young girl from Lancaster, Ky., only sixteen years of age, named Miss Addie Landrum. With an exquisite person, she has a rare admixture of girlish grace and womanly dignity, united with facial charms exceedingly attractive. Strakosch, one of the best judges in the musical world, gave it as his opinion that he had heard but one voice that surpassed hers, and that one was Miss Nilsson's."

THE New York Times has started a movement for sending the poor children of that city on short excursions, and has already raised a fund of over $1,400 for the purpose. Arrangements have been made to take 400 children from the Five Points House of Industry to a pleasant grove near Rockway Beach, Long Island, on July 11th. About six hundred children under the care of the Children's Aid Society, are to have a picnic on July 13, at Oriental Grove, Long Island, and other excursions are to follow.

IT is positively asserted by those well informed that the monthly requirements of Great Britain, up to the next harvest, will be fully one million quarters of grain, hence the lively interest exhibited at the grain-centres in the United States. In view of the above statement, there is only one source to which Great Britain has to resort to obtain the amount of grain, and that is the Northwestern and Western States. The new crop in England cannot possibly be harvested in a fit condition for use until the beginning of September, so that for two months to come the British isles will have to depend on America for their daily bread, the crops in France, Russia and other countries, not affording a surplus for export.

FOR many years to come California and the Territories of the far west will form the great wool-producing section of the country. In California this interest has already acquired great importance. That State has now about eight millions of sheep, which will be increased about three million of lambs the present season. The sheep are sheared twice a year, and with a good season the clips might be expected to average ten pounds per head. This would make the wool crop of California 80,000,000 pounds, or 25,000,000 more than the total products of the United States in 1861. This spring's [illegible] ever, is not expected to [illegible] and a half pounds, instead of six, which is the average for the spring crop alone. The spring clip is expected to bring thirty-five cents a pound, returning over $12,000,000 to the growers, with another clip to come in the fall.

"WE HAVE TURNED OUR BACKS UPON THE PAST."

"We have this day substantially turned our backs upon the past; we now stand in the present and look forward to the great future. The past is gone."—Thomas A. Hendricks, at the Democratic State Convention of Indiana.

Yes, turn your backs upon the past,
Filled with the record of your shame;
And, if you can, blot from your minds
Your long dishonored party's name.

Turn quick away from slavery's crime,
A thing you loved so well and long—
A monster that you fed and nursed
Till its devouring jaws were strong.

Turn from the coward's part you played
When traitors struck at Sumter's flag,
And sought the stars and stripes of old
In slavery's mire and filth to drag.

Yes, turn your backs on all you did
While patriots struggled for the right,
And freedmen fell on every side
In freedom's glorious fight.

Thank God! the noble men who fought
To save their heritage of fame,
Can face the record they have made
Without a single blush of shame.

Hotel Life in St. Louis.

[G. C. Harding, in Cincinnati Commercial.]

I am attached to my quarters, and yet I will have to leave. It is altogether too lively for a quiet man. There are about a hundred dining-room girls, and the corridor on my floor has, by mutual consent, been selected as the ground for the nightly settlement of disputes. The cat fight begins about two, about anything or nothing, and in a short time involves the entire force including clerks, stewards and landlords. It was exciting for the first ten or a dozen nights, but is getting monotonous. Besides this, there is a pretty divorced woman on the same floor, and her discarded cut-throat—an ill-looking dog, with murderous gray eyes—still fancies it his duty to exercise a sort of supervision over the goings and comings, and doings and sayings of Madame. This meddlesome scoundrel hangs about the hotel catechising the servants, and indulges in threats of cutting hearts out. If he learns that his ex-wife has paid a visit to the ice cream saloon in company with a male friend, his ferocious appetite for hearts is stimulated. The other night the lady was guilty of playing a game or two of chess with "the Doctor," and the cut-throat is hot on the trail of the medical heart, threatening to scoop out that noble entrail in its entirety of auricles, ventricles and pericardium. The doctor has changed his boarding-house, and I think I'll change mine—not that it's anything to me, only the heart-cutter is liable to make mistakes in his emotional insanity, and I don't care about bartering that portion of my viscera for nothing.

EVERY youth who is learning to sip and soak in the grog-shops is being fashioned to the uses of sham Democracy. His virtuous parents may think otherwise—may be ignorant of his haunts and his habits; but if he is learning to love liquor and loose company he is being fashioned to the ends [illegible] managers and oracles almost uniformly hate and revile the temperance reform, even when personally temperate. They know that its triumph is their damage, and probable defeat. There is not a State in the Union whereof the Democratic party is not conspicuously hostile to whatever legislation tends to diminish the number or the power of the grog-shops.—HORACE GREELEY.

THE Republican State Convention of New York in 1869, to show its confidence in Mr. Greeley and gratify his well-known desire for a formal recognition by the party, gave him the nomination for State Controller. In accepting the nomination he wrote a letter in which he referred to the "great army of office-seekers" whom President Grant's inability to supply with places had converted into "sulky stay-at-homes." These he entreated to go to the polls and there work and vote simply for the constitutional amendment securing impartial suffrage. "They will," he wrote, "thus proclaim that their personal disappointments have not affected their principles, and that their past professions of Republicanism were not insincere."

IN noticing the passage of the ballot bill by the English House of Peers the other day, we stated the next move of the advanced liberals would be to secure proportional representation in the House of Commons, based on population. The second reading of a bill to accomplish this purpose was moved in the House on Tuesday, but with what result the cable gives no information. Of course its support at this time is feeble but it will grow in power. Under the present plan of Parliamentary apportionment, London with its population of over three millions has but twenty members, while under an equitable arrangement based on population it would have sixty-two. Birmingham and Liverpool have now but three members, but under a fair apportionment the former would have seven and the latter eleven. If the English people carry this radical reform they would soon make short work of crown, peers, and state church. It is the commencement of a movement that may not be realized in a quarter of a century but is sure to come eventually.

THE Post accepts the action of the Baltimore Convention and pledges to it "full adhesion and support." About the candidates it gives no evidence of gushing enthusiasm, but coos with them as softly as a dove. It promises not to "voluntarily excuse, palliate or defend" the political record of its candidate, but, it continues:

If he has retracted or repented of any error then committed, or shall hereafter retract and repent of his assaults upon the principles, the purposes and the personal qualities of the Democracy, we shall be pleased to record the fact.

This is clever to Mr. Greeley, yet we apprehend that the Post will have to swallow the bitter of Greeley's record, and without abatement. Of course not "voluntarily," as the editor states, for he would prefer Mr. Jeff. Davis, or Toombs, or Stephens, or "Brick" Pomeroy, or even Gen. Grant, as he did four years ago. Still we would not be at all surprised to see the Post, before the campaign ends, conceding the truth of all the savage and indecent things Mr. Greeley has said of the Democrats. They were words—only words—and certainly as easy of digestion as the flesh and blood of their author.

A YEAR AGO to-day, the City of New York was the scene of terrible rioting and bloodshed, consequent on the attempt of one class of foreign citizens to prevent another class from exercising their legal right of marching in procession through the streets, in commemoration of an important historical event that has marked its influence in the English speaking race the world over. The good or bad taste of such demonstrations is not in question, but simply the right to make them. The riot in New York was aggravated last year by the cowardly and vacillating course of the authorities of the city, but the right claimed was justly vindicated, and the sacrifice of life made necessary was not too dear a purchase. To-day, the Orange society will again parade, and some apprehensions exist they will be interfered with, but the authorities are prepared for any emergency, and if necessary will deal severely with the rioters. The military of the city has been ordered under arms during the day at their armories, and the police will be so distributed as to crush out any disturbance, if possible without calling on the stronger power. The right to parade will be again vindicated, and we trust without serious consequences. For the future, we quite agree with the New York press, it would be well to abandon these revivals of foreign feuds on American soil. They accomplish no good, and are provocative of bitterness and animosity.

WHAT THE PEOPLE ARE DRIVING AT.

The census office from time to time issues very interesting tables gathered and tabulated from the reports of the census takers. They don't occupy much space, but represent an immense amount of labor performed, not only in Washington but throughout the length and breadth of the land. The last is a table of occupations, and gives an idea of what the American people are driving at to gain a livelihood or accumulate wealth. On the first of June, 1871, there were 12,505,923 persons in the United States pursuing gainful occupations—of this number 1,836,487 were females. Two-thirds of the whole number were of American birth; Ireland came next with 949,164, and Germany followed close with 836,302. China and Japan contributed 46,300.

Coming to occupations, of the total number 5,922,471 were engaged in agriculture, 2,706,421 in manufactures, mechanical and mining pursuits, 1,191,238 in trade and transportation, and 2,684,793 were rendering personal and professional services.

The largest number returned as of any single specified occcupation was under the head of planters and farmers, 2,982,573 being reported. Farm laborers came next, 2,880,045—this classification we judge would include the great bulk of the negro population of the Southern States. Laborers are set down next at 1,031,666 and then comes domestic servants, 971,043.

There were 43,874 clergymen reported as pursuing "a gainful occupation," and it is to be hoped the description is correct in every respect; 62,383 physicians and surgeons, and 40,736 lawyers. There were 44,743 civil officers of government, national, State and municipal, who reported no other occupation; 8,672 clerks, and 14,407 laborers of the same description. This represents the "horde" of office holders of all varieties, who subsist by official occupation alone, and is much smaller than one would naturally suppose.

Carpenters and joiners head the list of mechanical occupations with 344,595, miners, blacksmiths, shoemakers, tailors, milliners, masons, painters, etc., follow in the order named.

The number of persons returned as manufacturers was 42,905. Operatives in cottonmills, 111,606; in woolen mills, 58,836; in mills and factories not specified, 41,619; in iron works of all kinds, 81,000; in tobacco factories, 11,985; in paper mills, 12,469.

Under the head of trade there were returned 326,368 traders and dealers of all kinds, in addition to 16,975 peddlers, and 17,362 hucksters; 222,504 clerks in stores, in addition to 14,203 salesmen and women; 31,117 bookkeepers and accountants, and 7,262 commercial travellers, and exclusive, also of 14,362 barkeepers and tenders; porters and laborers in stores and warehouses, 31,513.

There were only 6,519 persons reported who followed music as a gainful pursuit, being about one-third the number of Gilmore's grand chorus.

THE GREELEY INTRIGUE.

We have had no doubt from the time the action of the Cincinnati Convention was fairly before the people of the country that Horace Greeley would be the Democratic [illegible] a question of much doubt as to his nomination at Cincinnati weeks before that Convention met, among the managing politicians who quietly arranged to shape its proceedings. They had a great many dupes at Cincinnati, notably Schurz and his German followers, and the editors of certain so-called liberal Republican journals; but the Greeley wire-pullers, experienced and acute politicians like Fenton, after they had gathered them all in, went straight forward to the accomplishment of their purpose. They knew that Greeley at Cincinnati meant Greeley at Baltimore. This was the programme from the outset, and was arranged long before either Convention met. The plot was hatched by New York politicians of the most corrupt stamp—by men identified with both parties and representing their most debased and spoils-seeking elements. They stole the livery of reform to promote their purpose just as the livery of heaven is stolen to serve the devil in. That they have been successful in hoodwinking a small class of honest Republicans, and binding them to their chariot wheels is a fact that need not be disputed, but it is equally certain that before the campaign has progressed many weeks, all that is worth having of this misguided and wheedled section of Greeley's supporters will return to their first love, indignant at the treachery to which they have been subjected, and the base uses to which their high asperations for an ideal reform were perverted. The name of Charles Francis Adams was mainly used to draw to the Cincinnati movement this class of Republicans. But it was never intended he should be nominated, for just as soon as its probability appeared imminent the bargain and sale speculation between Greeley and Brown was executed, and the original purpose of the conspirators consummated.

The secret details of the intrigue by which Greeley is now before the country as a Presidential candidate are fast coming to light, and before the campaign is many weeks older the "Liberal Republicans" will be made to see what magnificent dupes they have been made. The Binghampton (New York) Republican has ferreted out some of the particulars of the Greeley intrigue in that State, and promises more, with names, date and place. They go to the fact that before the Cincinnati Convention met there was a perfect understanding between Fenton and his co-laborers, and Horatio Seymour and other chiefs of the Tammany Democracy, to make Greeley a Presidential candidate. So far there has been no denial of the plot by the Tribune. The Republican reiterates its charges, and in its issue of Monday last emphasizes them as follows:

"In order that we may relieve the Tribune and the Democrats of any delicacy in answering the details we have given, with dates, &c., we put our charges in form so brief, direct and positive that they can neither mistake nor evade them.

"We charge:

"1. That Horace Greeley agreed with a Democrat in October last to be a candidate against the Republicans for President, if the nomination were tendered him.

"2. That he kept this agreememt a secret, while he changed the tone of his paper, so that from a supporter of the Republican organization, Republican administration and Republican principles, it abandoned its party, became an enemy of the administration, repudiated Republican principles and substantially joined the Democrats. This was while Mr. Greeley held a Democratic proposition to be their nominee for President, which he had accepted.

"3. That Horatio Seymour, representing the leading Democrats of this State, wrote to Waldo Hutchins, one of Greeley's right hand supporters and advisers in New York, on the question of making Greeley President with Democratic support; and, that Waldo Hutchins replied to that letter, on or before May 1, just before the meeting of the Cincinnati Convention.

"4. That the understanding arrived at between Seymour, for the Democrats, and Hutchins, for Greeley—with other direct understanding—was communicated to the New York and other delegates to Cincinnati, and was the principal cause of the nomination of Greeley, who had at first little more than one-fifth the strength of the convention; and who, for a reason that the country has never comprehended till now, received finally the majority of votes, against the sense of all, or nearly all, the original movers for the convention.

"If there is any answer to these charges, or to any of them, we again invite the persons concerned, or anybody by their authority, to come forward. There is much more to be said on our side; and, we may add, that the facts point very significantly toward other (late) Republican company than that of Hutchins, as associates of Greeley and Seymour in the plot. The name of a man who has occupied a very prominent place in Republican politics in this State is given to us as involved in it."

There is nothing more shameful in this than the manufacture of bogus Greeley delegations at Cincinnati, or the corrupt bargain between the Greeley managers and Gratz Brown, by which the latter conceded his strength in the Convention to Greeley, conditional on his own nomination for the Vice Presidency. This was the share of the Blairs in the plot. But the existence of an intrigue with the Democrats anterior to the Cincinnati Convention explains many things that will disgust "Liberal Republicans" with the great reformer they have caught, and induce them to take the back track. Some of the few Republican journals that support the Cincinnati nomination in good faith, have already declared that the intrigue and bargaining here indicated, if substantiated would make Greeley an unfit candidate for support by honest men. We have very little doubt it will be made clear as noon-day, and then we shall see how Greeley rests on their stomachs with the sugar co ating of reform displaced by on odor of bargaining, conspiracy and low political intrigue.

PLATFORM GAMMON.

The Baltimore Convention had a Committee on Resolutions of thirty-seven delegates. They were the platform makers of the party, and included, of course, the intellectual strength of the Convention. As the result of several hours' sharp tussle with the situation they gave birth to the following brilliant paper, sparkling all over with the grand old truths of Jackson Democracy, as the stumpers would say:

We, the Democratic electors of the United States, in National Convention assembled, present the principles, already proclaimed at Cincinnati, as essential to just government.

This was adopted in Convention by a vote of 662 ayes to 70 nays. It virtually refers the inquiring Democrat anxious for a political chart to steer by, to the bull issued at Cincinnati six weeks ago. Luckily we have preserved a Cincinnati paper of Convention date, and by this round-about procedure are in possession of this last declaration of Democratic truth. The one in Chicago, in 1864, which declared the war a failure, and the one at New York in 1868, which advocated the greenback theory and denounced equal rights before the law, are expunged, and in their places we have a gospel maintaining the emancipation and enfranchisement of the negroes, and demanding equal justice for every race and color, the Chinaman as well as the black man, while the greenback scheme is rejected in a denunciation of repudiation "in every form and guise," and a demand for a speedy return to specie payment. This is a change indeed, if one could only believe it an honest or sincere one; but the old Democrat, who reads up his political principles every four years, would as easily mistake Tom Paine's "Age of Reason" for the gospel of St. Matthew as this latest deliverance of his party chiefs for pure and undefiled Democracy, fashioned after the resolutions of '98. We admit that so far as we get at Democratic principles, via Cincinnati, the progress they exhibit is most commendable. The only drawback is that they may be spurious—mere traps to catch the unwary—gammon! That's the trouble, else the nation so far as principles are concerned might be entering on a millenium of blissful concord. The well known facility of his Satanic Majesty in quoting scripture when in close quarters, don't make him a saint by any means. It is against such devices of the common enemy that we are specially warned. In this view of the value to be attached to the Democratic declaration of faith at Baltimore, via Cincinnati, we are happily strengthened by no less a person than Mr. Horace Greeley whose name appeared at the mast head of the Post yesterday as its candidate for President. A few months ago this philospher and guide, in speaking of the Democratic party declared:

"It is rebel at the core to-day, hardly able to reconcile the defeats of Lee, Johnston, Bragg, Hood and Price, and the consequent downfall of its beloved Confederacy, with its traditional faith in Divine Providence. It would hail the election of a Democratic President in 1872 as a virtual reversal of the Appomattox surrender. It would come into power with the hate, the chagrin, the wrath, the mortification of ten bitter years to impel and guide its steps. It would devote itself to taking off or reducing tax after tax until the treasury was deprived of the means of paying interest on the national debt, and would hail the tidings of national bankruptcy with unalloyed gladness and unconcealed exultation. Whatever chastisement may be deserved for our national sins, we must hope that this disgrace and humiliation will be spared us."

MATTERS OF MOMENT.

THE financial editor of the New York Herald says "Goldsmith Maid" was bought with the gold Smith made on "Black Friday."

IT is estimated by well informed ship agents that not less than 150,000 people will visit Europe from this country during the present season.

"SOMEHOW or other," says the Philadelphia Age, "Greeley seems to be rising."

And the Age might have added if it desired to tell the whole truth that his ascent of the tin tube will be completed next November.

IT IS expected that the decision of the Emperor of Germany in reference to the San Juan boundary question, will be given some time during the present month. He has had all the papers in his possession for some time.

THE new costal carp is a success. The Department is overrun with orders from merchants in all the large cities, and it is now estimated that the first issue of 50,000,000 will have to be supplemented by another issue equally as large.

THE Cincinnati Commercial is puzzled to know why Mr. Beecher, an old friend, should oppose Mr. Greeley's Presidential aspirations. If the Commercial is puzzled so soon, what will be its condition after next November when all of Greeley's old friends unite to "lay him on the shelf?"

OUR thanks are returned to Col. James M. Swank, Chief Clerk of the Department of Agriculture, for a neatly printed and valuable little brochure, containing a full history of the Department, its object and the work of the past year. It is filled with much interesting information from which we may have occasion hereafter to cull extracts.

BUCKALEW'S "noble utterances" were mostly of the kind to which he gave vent at Bloomsburg, Columbia county, when he said: "Fellow Citizens, when I landed in New York from South America and found that Abe Lincoln, the rail-splitter of Illinois, was President, and W. H. Seward, his Secretary, I was humiliated."

Can any honest workingman vote for such a "friend."

FROM KANSAS.

[Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PERRY, KANSAS, July 4, 1872.

After three or four weeks of dry, breezy weather, with intensely hot sunshine, we have had a succession of fine showers, and now corn, potatoes, &c., are growing with wonderful rapidity. The wheat crop in Eastern Kansas was greatly damaged by the drought and severe frosts of the winter. That crop will be far below the average. Some fields are totally destroyed. In the western part of the State, however, on the borders of the great plains, I am told the wheat crop is good. Even on the plains, forty or fifty miles West of Fort Harker, the wheat is excellent, although the winter was very severe. Indeed, the soil of the plains is exactly adapted to that crop, as that of the eastern section is to corn. It is rich, compact, and as deep as can be reached with the plow; and when well ploughed, retains moisture enough to make that crop. Corn does not succeed well on that soil.

There is too much agriculture here for the other industries; but that will come right after a while. Some enterprising men at Lawrence are engaged in erecting a dam across the Kansas river (or Kaw, as it is called here) for the purpose of creating water power. It is a good stream for that purpose, having always a strong flow of water. Lawrence will then quickly become an important manufacturing city.

I would not advise people to come out here just now to engage in farming, having to rely upon that immediately for a livelihood; but it is an excellent time to come out to make improvements, and be ready for "the good time coming." It is a good time in which to establish manufactures suited to the circumstances of the country. Hemp could be grown in these rich bottom lands to great advantage, and would be were there works to put it into a condition for the market. Brooms could be made here cheaper and better than in any place I have seen. Some are made, and they are the best we have ever used; but this branch of industry might be increased twenty-fold. This is an excellent sheep country, and there is no reason why the manufacture of woolen fabrics might not be carried on to great extent. Canning fruits, both large and small, could be carried on here more profitably than any place east of the Mississippi, because they can be grown more cheaply and are of superior quality. Now is the time to lay the foundation for all such industries. I might also mention the making of starch as another business which could be prosecuted here to great advantage, as corn and potatoes are so abundant and cheap.

Politics are quiet. As this State will go for Grant by a large majority, the thing is regarded as good as settled already. Most of the Democrats are for Greeley, but not all. Perhaps as many of them will support Grant as there are Republicans who will vote for Greeley. On the Presidential question there is no excitement and but little feeling, as the result is regarded as a foregone conclusion; but on that of the United States Senator there is a good deal of feeling. Senator Pomeroy's term expires on the next fourth of March, and the better class of Republicans are for keeping him out. He is believed to be corrupt, and perhaps with good reason. He is wealthy, has talents far above mediocrity, and in his private and domestic relations he is quite unexceptionable; but he seems to be one of those men who contrive to make everything "pay." There are many such, and the sooner they are shaken off the better. There was a rumor that President Grant thought of making him Secretary of the Interior in his next term, but if that story were to gain credence in this State it would cost him thousands of votes, and possibly give our electoral vote to Greeley. We don't believe, however, the President has any such intention. Caldwell's day of reckoning will not come for some three or four years.

I trust you will make a good and successful fight in Pennsylvania. The people here have got it into their heads that the opposition will carry your State in October; but that still Grant will get the vote in November. The Republicans here will not be alarmed or discouraged at the defeat of Hartranft; but should he be elected, it will be regarded as settling the national contest.

RALLY ROUND OUR LEADERS.

Rally round our leaders, men,
We're arming for the fight,
We'll raise our glorious standard,
And battle for the right.
To swell our gallant army,
Come from hill and plain,
Grant shall win the victory
For President again.

CHORUS.
Let the drum and bugle sound,
We'll march to meet the foe;
Let our joyous shouts resound,
That all the land may know,
The sons of freedom in their might
Have come from hill and plain,
To make the brave Ulysses
Our President again.

He's a gallant hero,
And a noble statesman, too.
He's safely brought our Ship of State,
The darkest dangers through;
Let every brave and true man
Join our loyal band,
'Till loud resounds the victory
From mountain, vale and strand.
CHORUS—Let the drum, &c.

And when the battle's over
We'll homeward turn again,
We'll join the lovely lasses
To music's thrilling strain;
And loud the anthem swelling,
To Grant, our noble chief,
Who won our country's battles
And saved the land from grief.
CHORUS—Let the drum, &c.

Then rally round our leaders, men,
We're arming for the fight,
We'll raise our glorious standard,
And battle for the right,
To swell our gallant army,
Come from hill and plain,
Grant shall win the victory
For President again.
CHORUS—Let the drum, &c.

TRUSSES.

Every kind of Trusses for the cure of Rupture may be obtained at Dr. Keyser's establishment, No. 167 Liberty street. It is a matter of the greatest consequence that all who are ruptured should be properly fitted with a suitable truss, and one that will keep the ruptured parts in their place. Many persons do not know when they are ruptured, and frequently years are allowed to pass by before anything is done.

This is a great error, and one that is often paid for at the epxense of the person's life.

Rupture is too serious an injury to be treated with lightness or neglect, especially when the means for its relief and cure are so easily obtained. Children and young persons are easily cured, with the improved appliances which are constantly being added to the great variety which Dr Keyser always has on hand.

Dr Keyser's office, 167 Liberty street, from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6, and on Saturdays at night.

SUGGESTIONS FOR SUMMER.

It is of great importance that the system should be in a vigorous condition when the hot weather commences. The effects of a high temperature upon an enfeebled frame are always more or less disastrous. The loss of substance and the declension of nervous power, occasioned by excessive heat, can only be compensated by the active, healthful, and regular exercise of all the bodily functions by which the waste of nature is replenished and the vital energies renewed. The great utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a means of toning, invigorating and regulating the organs of the body, is universally acknowledged. As a tonic it stimulates the flagging appetite and accelerates digestion; as a corrective it neutralizes acidity of the stomach and relieves flatulency; as an alterative and mild aperient it regulates the liver and the bowels; as an anodyne it promotes tranquil sleep; as a wholesome stimulant it imparts firmness and elasticity to the trembling nerves, and as a blood depurent it purifies the vital stream. The value of such a specific to the weak and debilitated is beyond all estimate. To invalids wilted down by the sultry heat of midsummer, it is as refreshing and vitalizing as the cool night dew to the sun-scorched flowers. Composed of vegetable elements only, with a basis of pure diffusive stimulant, it is safe and palatable as well as medicinal. In fever and ague districts, and wherever the natural conditions are conducive to epidemic disease, it is considered the best safeguard against malarious infection, and the speediest remedy for intermittent and remittent fevers.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 11, 1872.

Local money matters still continue to work smoothly. The offerings and the discount loans are light, and choice paper is exceedingly scarce. The July settlements are progressing without much complaint from collectors, as business men generally want to pay off the claims against them, so as to square up their books to the 1st inst.

The trade of the city keeps up astonishingly well for this time of the year, some of our manufacturers reporting that they will be compelled to curtail the time usually allotted to repairs for machinery, etc., so as to keep up with the orders coming in upon them. Out of doors operations have, as far as possible, been suspended since the advent of the very hot weather, the scorching rays of the sun admonishing people to keep cool and shady. There is no notable change in values. The disposition manifest that gold must go up still higher, prevents the seller from forcing his wares upon the market. Appearances indicate that prices will be higher, and while home merchants are pursuing a hand-to-mouth policy, importers and large holders of produce are not anxious to close out their stock in the face of an advancing gold market.

The large purchases of bonds by the Treasury Department during the past year, and the large drain thus made has pretty much exhausted this country of nearly all the floating stock, the bonds which are now in the country being held by those who cannot or will not part with them, so that it now looks as if gold would have to be used to make settlements of foreign indebtedness, as will have to be made within the next few weeks.

In the money markets east and west continued ease is reported, with the rate of interest unchanged. In local securities there is nothing doing. Sales of property are still large, and it is surmised that the amount changing hands this week will be larger in value than those of last week.

NEW YORK, July 11, 1872.

Money easy at 3 to 4. Sterling quiet and steady. Gold quiet and firm at 113¾@114. The Gold Room was closed at 2 P. M. Loans from 2 to 4 for carrying. Clearances $39,000,000. Governments dull and steady. State bonds quiet. Erie speculation was the chief feature in Wall street to-day, opening at 53⅜, selling up to 55, and closing at 54¾. Outside of Erie, Pacific Mail was the most prominent stock, and fluctuated between 73⅝@74⅞. The balance of the list improved from ⅛ to ⅝, closing strong. There were twenty-two bids for gold to-day, amounting to about $4,506,000, at from 113 55-100 to 113 94-100. The amount to be sold is one million, which will go at from 113 88-100 to 113 94-100. The Post says: This afternoon has developed the plans of a pool organized to advance stocks after Greeley's nomination. The suggestion for the pool was first made at Saratoga, where many speculators are staying, among whom are some of what are called Vanderbilt people, who figured at Baltimore at the Democratic Convention.

PHILADELPHIA, July 11.—Flour very dull, and concessions would have to be made to sell superfine at $5,00@5,50; extra $5,75@6,50. Wheat dull; red $1,50@1,60. Rye 68@69c. Corn dull; yellow 62c; mixed western 61c. Oats steady at 39@42c. Petroleum: crude 15¾@16; refined 23c. Whisky 91½@92c.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 11, 1872.

ASHES—Continue quiet, and there is not enough doing in Soda Ash to establish quotations. Pots are still quoted at 10; and Pearls 11.

APPLES—Are coming in more freely, and the quality is improving; prices, however, are irregular, ranging from $3 to $5 per bbl.

BUTTER—There is some inqury for strictly prime, and there is but little of this kind offering; may be quoted at 16 to 17 cts. Low grade butter continues very dull.

BEANS—Quiet and weaker in consequence of a diminished demand, and we reduce our quotations to $2,50@3,00 per bushel.

BROOM CORN—Quiet; 5 to 8 cts.

CHEESE—Is weak, but trade continues unusually active for the season; we reduce our quotations half a cent as follows: Dairy, 10@10½; Factory, 11@11½; Goshen, 12@12½.

CANNED GOODS—Peaches $6,50 to $5. per case; Corn $5,50 to $6,50; Tomatoes, $4,50 to $7.

CARBON OIL—Is quoted in a jobbing way at 19½@20 cts by the car load, and 2@3 cents additional for small lots.

CONCENTRATED LYE—Pennsylvania is unchanged at $5,50 per case.

CEMENT—Louisville Cement, $2,50 to $2,75 per bbl; Calcined Plaster, $4 to $4,50; Land Plaster, $3,25 to $3,50; Cleveland Lime, $2; Eastern Lime, $1,75.

COUNTRY BACON—Shoulders, 4@5; clear sides, 5¼@6¼; hams, 8 to 10 cts. Country lard, 7@8 cts.

DRIED FRUIT—Continues quiet, and being about out of season, there is so little doing that it is difficult to give quotations.

EGGS—The receipts continue comparatively light, and the supply is small though fully up to the demand, which seems to be unusually small. We now quote at 16@17 cts—some dealers are still holding at 18.

FLOUR—Trade is fair although the demand is mainly for small lots, as neither dealers nor consumers are disposed as yet to stock up, being apprehensive that the bottom has not yet been reached—that prices may still go lower. We continue to quote, in a jobbing way, at $7,50 to $8,25 for fair to choice spring wheat, and $8,50 to $9,00 for good to choice red winter—some houses have put their best brands down to $8,75. Rye Flour dull but unchanged; $5,50.

GRAIN—Wheat continues very quiet as the mills here are still virtually out of the market; however stocks are small and receipts light, and holders are indifferent about selling, feeling confident that it will be in good demand within the next thirty or forty days, and at better prices than can now be obtained. There was a sale of red winter, the other day, at $1,70, but we understand that $1,60 is the best bid by millers and that they are not anxious for it even at that. Oats continues dull with a supply largely in excess of present requirements; prices, however, are without quotable change, 41 to 42 cents, in a jobbing way. Usually at this season of the year there is inquiry from the East, but at present prices are almost as low in Philadelphia and New York as they are here, hence dealers are entirely dependent on the local trade. Shelled Corn is quiet and unchanged, 58 to 59 on track and 60@61 free in elevator. Rye is quotable, in the absence of sales, at 75 to 80 cents. No movement in Barley.

GROCERIES—Sugars firmer especially in the East, and refined goods are higher; in our market there has been no change as yet in prices, but, according to present indications, an early advance is probable. Coffee is quiet and unchanged; however, trade is fair for the season.

REFINED SUGARS.—Crushed, 13¼; granulated, 13; powdered, 13¾; A, 12; B, 11⅝; Ex C, 11⅜; C, 11¼; Circle C, 11⅜; Chesapeake, Ex C, 11¼; Lovering, 11¼; Knights C yellow, 10¼.

COFFEE.—Fancy, 24¼; prime, 23¼, good, 22¼; fair, 22; roasted. 27.

SYRUPS.—Fancy drips, 70; white; choice syrups, 65; good, 55; fair, 50; common, 35@40; blackstrap, 25.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 80; Porto Rico, 65.

RICE.—Carolina, 9½@10; Rangoon, 7¾@9; Patna, 8 to 8¼.

HAY—The arrivals for some time past have been comparatively light and holders in consequence are feeling stronger, but the demand is inactive, and it is difficult to effect sales except in small lots. We continue to quote at $25 to $30 per ton, with but few sales above $28@$29.

HEMP—Kentucky rough, $130 per ton.

OIL—No. 1 lard oil is quotable at 68 to 70 cts —a very low price, taking the price of lard into consideration.

POTATOES—Reported firmer in consequence of diminished receipts; prices however, are without quotable change, ranging from $2 to 2,50 per bbl.

PROVISIONS—Plain shoulder, 6¾c; Sugar-cured Shoulders, 9c; Breakfast Bacon, 11½c; Rib Sides, 8c; Short Rib Sides, 8¼c; Clear Sides, 9c; Sugar Cured Hams, 15c; Dried Beef, 18½c. Lard, in tierces, 10c; half bbls, 10¼c; pails, 11¼c. Mess Pork, $14,50. Ham Sausage, 10¼c.

POULTRY—Live Chickens, full grown, 70 to 80 cts per pair.

RAGS—Sales at 3½@4cts per lb.

SALT—Quoted at $1,75 per barrel by the car load, and $1,90 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—The is a steady demand for flax seed and little offering; we continue to quote at $2.

TALLOW—Rendered 7¼ to 8 cts.

WILLOWS—Offerings light; sales in a smal way at 10 cts.

WHISKY—Highwines firmer but unchanged; 90@91 cents.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 11, 1872.

Crude continues weak and dull, and prices are still drooping; the market opened at $3,57¼, declined to $3,55, and closed at $3,52¼, the lowest it has reached for some time. Refined was also weak and lower; July quoted at 22 to 22¼; August, 22⅜, and September, 22¼. These are certainly very low prices, especially for this season of the year, and it is scarcely possible that they will go much lower. Oil barrels quiet and unchanged; sales of city make at $1,80—country quoted at $1,70.

Wool Market.

BOSTON.—There are no signs of improvement in the market, and manufacturers manifest no disposition to purchase except for present wants. There is a very desirable stock of foreign wools offering, which can be bought cheaper than the present cost of Western wools, and some of the finest and most desirable wool ever received from California is offered to purchasers. But there is an indifference on the part of manufacturers to lay in their supplies which is in marked contrast to the eagerness with which last year's crop was purchased. One reason of this indifference is the relatively high cost of wool as compared with the price of the manufactured article, coupled with the belief that the stock of wool is much greater than has been expected. The reduction of duty, which goes into effect on the 1st of August, will render available some 20,000,000 lbs. of wool now in bonded warehouses, and with an increased Western and California production there is no prospect of a wool famine at present. We learn of some considerable purchases of wool at the London sales by American manufactures at a cost laid down here of 55@60c per lb. In the wool growing districts there has been some progress made in moving the new clip, but prices generally are above the view of buyers.

Fleece Wool.—The only sale we have to notice is 12,000 lbs. old New York at 65@68c per lb. Some 23,000 lbs odds and ends have also been bought, but at various prices, as to quality.

Combing and Delaine Fleece.—We have only to notice sales of 7,000 lbs delaine at 58@60c per lb. In combing nothing has been done.

Unwashed Wool—The transactions include 2,000 lbs medium Western at 58c; 5,000 lbs Georgia at 60c; 10,000 lbs Georgia and 10,000 lbs Oregon on private terms.

PHILADELPHIA.—There is very little movement, but prices are without material change. We quote Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, XX washed fleece, 70@72c; X do, 69@70; medium and coarse do, 72@75: combing and delaine do, 82@85; Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and other western fleeces, X and XX washed fleece, 67@70c; medium and coarse do 70@74c; combing and delaine do, 82c; fine washed, 47@50c; medium and coarse unwashed, 65 choice picked tub, 75@77c; fair tub, 74@75; inferior tub, 65@70c; No. 1 city pulled, 65@70c; merino city pulled, 62½@67c; country pullings, 60@65c.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, July 11.—There have been some feelers thrown out for large lots of standard sheetings for future delivery, but we are unable to learn whether any definite contracts were closed. There is also a disposition to purchase heavily of Canton Flannels and a few of favorite brands of sheetings to supply the extreme southern trade. The indications are that there will be considerable movement in these goods in first hands, and prices realized for them will largely determine opening prices for the season. The New York Daily Bulletin says: "There is more confidence in the present prices of woolens, with a disposition on the part of clothiers to purchase, that we feel warranted in saying that cloths and cassimeres are seemingly as low as manufacturers can produce them."

RIVER NEWS.

The river remains about stationary at this point, with eighteen inches in the channel. Weather continues unsettled, with heavy showers, and hopes of a rise soon are again entertained. Business is entirely suspended at the main landing, and will continue so until there is a raise.

The West Virginia departed for geneva last evening. On her next trip Capt. Donaldson, who has been detained at home for some time by sickness and death of his wife, will resume command. She leaves here every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 3 P. M.

The Juniata is on the docks at Cincinnati, undergoing an overhauling. She will also be repainted and put in good condition for the fall trade.

—Louisville collected $1,663 25 wharfage last week.

—The Bermuda goes on the docks at Evansville this week.

—The river is higher at St. Paul than at any time this year.

—Idlewild made the run recently from Henderson to Evansville in fifty-nine minutes. This is considered extraordinary fast time.

—Sealed proposals are advertised for until Monday, August 5, for the removal of Bacon Rock, below Cario. This is good news.

—Joseph Nixon has been released from custody at New Orleans on his own recognizance for $2,-500, after being in jail a year for setting fire to the Belle of Alton.

—The following will constitute a line of boats torun from Louisville to Cairo during low water season: Camelia, Eddyville, Longfellow, Ella Hughes, and Burksville.

—Capt. Lee is in Louisville and will probably build a boat for the machinery of the Carrie Converse of the same dimensions as the Gladiola after the latter is lengthened.

—The Katie P. Kountz is in luck; arrived at Benton with a good load; left there on Sunday last with sixty-five passengers—twice as many as the best preceding trip of the sason.

—Eli Smith, formerly Commandant's Secretary at the Mound City Naval Station, but latterly an attorney in Chicago, was nominated by the late Springfield Convention for the office of Clerk of the Supreme Court, for the Northern District of Illinois.

—Monday's St. Louis Republican says: The rumor yesterday that the Mississippi Valley Transportation Company had contracted with the Marine Way, Cincinnati, for a new boat, the same size and power of the Crescent City, and to be called St. Louis, had no foundation in it whatever.

—The Cincinnati Chronicle of Wednesday says: Captain Fenton yesterday sold the steamer Edinburgh, at private sale, to Captain Thomas. Captain Thomas is one of the old-time Arkansas boatmen, but has been farming for several years back. We understand it is his intention to re pair the Edinburgh and place her in the Arkansas trade from here.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Capt. Wm. J. Kountz has returned from New Orleans. He finds the Katie to be not exactly the boat he wants; nor is it an easy matter for any one to find who owns her, how she is owned or who will own her, what is her value, will be her value, her indebtedness, where she will run or when, or who will command her, clerk her, agent her, or anything else about her.

—The Louisville Ledger says: The tugboat "Magnolia" is at the foot of Second street. She is 50 feet feet in length, and about 10 feet beam, drawing 5 feet of water. She is just such a tug as one often sees about the Chicago River and the lake. The Varbles are the owners, and they intend to use her in this harbor for towing coal barges, &c. She is valued at $4,500, and is able to move a large tow of barges. She is the first through boat from Chicago.

—Regarding the steamboat interests and prospects about St. Louis, Captain Boardman, of the John T. Moore, writes as follows to a friend in New Orleans: "First-class mates get here $90; clerks from $50, $75 to $100; engineers, the best, $75 for second and $100 for first. If a boat lays over more than two-days wages are stopped. Then, on the other hand, it don't cost more than half what we pay in New Orleans for living. The best restaurants charge twenty-five cents for breakfast and supper, fifty cents for a fine dinner. Present low rates from here to New Orleans, and from there to Shreveport, makes Carter line folk sick. They say rates are one-third lower than ever before carried for. The Moore has a soft thing at last. Her expenses for loading at the M. O. R. wharf-boat are $100. No wharfage in this State. Agency $40. Landing is done by contract, 1¼c per package, consequently we have no crew to feed or pay."

—We clip the following from the Sioux City Journal in regard to the race between the Far West and Nellie Peck: The long agony is over, and the Far West is into Benton ahead of the Nellie Peck. The Nellie left here at daylight on the morning of the 9th ult., and the Far West followed at 11:30 A. M. on the 12th. It was generally conceded that the Far West would beat the Nellie's time, but a good deal of money was wagered upon first arrival at Benton, and the most we can do is to condole with those who backed the Nellie, and offer our congratulations to those who staked their money on the gallant Far West. John H. Charles received a dispatch from Fort Benton, dated July 2d, from the clerk of the Far West, the exact language of which is as follows: "Arrived here first, Sunday morning, seventeen days and twenty hours out—JAS. I. EARLE." The run of the Far West is something unheard of on the Missouri river, as the best time heretofore from Sioux City to Benton was a little less than twenty-three days.

HOME NEWS.

Persons leaving the city for the country, during the summer months, can have the Gazette by mail, at special rates, by leaving their names at our counting room.

Sudden Death.

About eleven o'clock last evening a man came from Allegheny to notify Coroner West of the sudden death of a woman named Kate Knox. The deceased was employed in a family residing at No. 29 South Diamond street, Allegheny, and yesterday morning immediately after breakfast, feeling slightly unwell, she returned to bed. Last night at half past ten some member of the family went to her room and found her dead. An inquest will probably be held to-day.

Opposition to Railroads.

Mrs. Murphy, with her husband, are residents of Ormsby borough. The lady has, from some cause, become a bitter opponent to the extension of the Pittsburgh, Charleston and Virginia Railroad, more particularly when that extension has to pass through her property. On Wednesday morning Mrs. M. showed her dislike to this extension in a very practical manner, interfering with the men engaged upon the road, tearing up ballast and threatening all sorts of dire things to any one who should encroach upon her premises. A. J. Devinny, the contractor, yesterday appeared before Justice Hoerr and charged the lady with surety of the peace. She was arrested and gave bail for a hearing.

A. P. A.

The Representatives of the Western District met at their hall on the corner of Ninth and Liberty streets, on Tuesday, July 9th, to elect a D. D. G. M., to serve for the ensuing year. The meeting was called to order, with Bro. P. W. G. M. Henry Bork in the chair. The chairman appointed Bro. Wm. C. Cooke as Secretary. Bro. R. Y. Boyce was unanimously elected D. D. G. M. After the transaction of the usual routine business, short addresses were made by P. W. G. M. Henry Bork, and Representatives Jas. Fleming, Hugh McCracken, Jos. Irwin, E. Frey and Wm. C. Cooke, giving short sketches of the Order throughout the State, which is in a very flattering condition, after which the meeting adjourned.

Accident on the Valley Road.

An accident occurred yesterday morning on the Allegheny Valley Railroad at Donelly's Station, which almost miraculously was not attended with a fatal result. About nine o'clock an elderly gentleman named Donelly was crossing the track at the place named when a train on its way from Pittsburgh came along at full speed. The old gentleman seems to have become bewildered and during his hesitation he was struck by the cowcatcher of the locomotive and fortunately thrown by it, clear of the track. His fall was, however, a very heavy one and he sustained serious injuries. He was removed to his residence near by, where he lays in a critical condition. Mr. Donelly is a wealthy landowner, and the station at which the accident occurred was named after him.

A Matron in Trouble.

Officer. Dan. Silvus, yesterday, arrested near the Postoffice an old lady who was evidently under the influence of liquor. When taken to the lock-up she gave her name as Eliza Morris, and stated that she was from Zanesville, Ohio. At the Mayor's afternoon hearing the old lady was arraigned, and was then quite sober, and evidenced the greatest humiliation at the position in which she found herself. In answer to questions from the Mayor, she stated that she came to this city in the morning to visit four of her sons who are working on the South Side. She visited a friend's house, and took two drinks of brandy, and these flew to her head. She was the mother of seventeen children, thirteen boys and four girls, all of whom are living and doing well. The Mayor, after hearing her story, discharged her from custody, and detailed an officer to see that the poor old lady found the place of her destination.

Fatal Saw Mill Accident.

A young man by the name of Alexander Wright, who lived with his parents in Brook county, West Virginia, while engaged in working at a portable saw mill, met with an accident some time ago, which finally proved fatal. It seems, while assisting in taking lumber from the saw mill, he fell, coming in contact with the saw. Three fingers and part of the hand was taken off, and the other arm was so badly injured that it had to be amputated above the elbow. He was taken to a brother's house in Steubenville, Ohio, where, after suffering a great deal for five or six weeks, he died on last Sunday evening, July 7th inst. He was buried the next day, Monday afternoon, in the graveyard at Eldersville, Washington county, Pa., when a large number of friends and citizens attended his funeral. His corpse was taken into the Methodist church at Eldersville, and the funeral services performed by J. B. Lucas, pastor of the church.

Important Decision.

The Supreme Court of our state has just rendered an important decision which will be of interest to business men.

About a year ago the State Bank of Harrisburg had a suit against one Neal M'Coy, in the court of Juniata county, to recover the value of [illegible] after the defendant was so intoxicated that he did not know what he was doing. The jury found a verdict for the defendant, and the Bank carried the case to the Supreme Court, where an argument was had on a motion for a new trial. That body, at its session in Philadelphia has just reversed the judgment and ordered the record to be remitted for a new trial. In the course of the opinion the court holds "that insanity is a misfortune and drunkenness is a vice." According to the decision, the signature of a drunken man invalidates the note only as between the original parties, and not to the bona fide holder or a third party who has purchased it.

State Reform School.

The committee of the State Reform School, we understand, found a farm in Washington county that contains all the qualities and characteristics desired in a school farm, and the owner desires to sell it, but asks the committee $50 per acre more than he recently offered to sell it for. For this reason and for the more serious reason that the aggregate cost of the farm at the price asked would absorb so large a portion of the resources of the institution that enough would not remain to make the necessary improvements, the committee is looking elsewhere for a cheaper estate. New sites are daily offered in different parts of Allegheny, Washington, Westmoreland and Butler counties. An admirable farm in Allegheny county, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, and another on the edge of Washington county, on the Panhandle Road, are offered—one at $25,000 and the other at $50,000 less than the one first mentioned. One or the other of these will probably be purchased if none more desirable shall be offered during the current month.

Fire on Troy Hill.

On Wednesday evening a fire broke out in a shed built over the bake oven of John Loetterly on Troy Hill, at the corner of Branch and Lowery streets. The shed caught fire from a spark from the chimney and before the flames were extinguished the shed was entirely consumed. Owing to the fact that Troy Hill is provided with neither water, fire engine, or fire alarm telegraph, the persons residing in the neighborhood felt considerably alarmed and at one time great fear was entertained that a general conflagration was imminent. The neighbors however went to work and tore down all the fences and sheds, thus cutting off the connection between the burning shed and the adjacent property.

In this connection it may be stated that a movement is on foot to petition Councils to supply the Hill with a hose carriage and to extend the fire alarm telegraph. The narrow escape of Wednesday evening has fully awakened the residents to the necessity for better provisions for extinguishing fires.

The Irwin Case.

The case of the young girl, Kate Irwin, who was brought to this city on Wednesday evening by Detective Wilmot from Parker's Landing, where she was discovered in a house of ill-fame, was disposed of by the Mayor yesterday. It was expected that she would be sent to the House of Refuge, but yesterday morning a number of influential and charitable ladies waited upon the Mayor and asked that, should the girl be willing, she might be allowed to become an inmate of the Chatham Street Home for Women. An interview ensued in which Miss Irwin promised reformation, and under these circumstances she was allowed to leave the Mayor's office in charge of the ladies. As was stated yesterday, she is a girl of unusual beauty and intelligence, and appears sorry for the course which she has pursued. She speaks very bitterly of the Market street merchant, who, she alleges, was the cause of her going-astray. It is not at all improbable that a new phase of the case will be soon developed, in which the merchant will figure conspicuously.

ORANGE DAY.

The Twelfth of July to be Celebrated in This City—Arrangements for a Parade—The Route of the Procession.

The Orangemen of this city have determined to do honor to the Twelfth of July, with which, to them, are associated so many grand and historic memories. The arrangements for the demonstration have been the subject of much careful consideration for some time past, and every detail has been carefully and judiciously perfected. In order that no trouble of any kind may be consequent upon the parade, a committee appointed for that purpose some time since, visited the Mayor, and requested his assistance in carrying out the programme arranged decently and in order. His Honor assured them of his willingness to do anything in his power to aid in making the celebration a success. It is stated that some two thousand Orangemen will be in the procession, and it is expected that it will present a very imposing appearance.

The following is the route laid down, which will be strictly addhered to:

The procession will form on Sixth avenue, right resting on Wood street; down Wood street to Third avenue; from Third avenue to Ross street; from Ross street to Fifth avenue; out of Fifth avenue to Pride street; from Pride to Fulton street; from Fulton street to Wylie, down Wylie to Fifth avenue; from Fifth avenue to Market street; down Market street to Sixth avenue; over Suspension bridge; up Federal street to North avenue; from North avenue to Pennsylvania avenue, Pennsylvania avenue to Beaver avenue; Beaver avenue to Ridge; Ridge to Marion; Marion to Ohio street; along Ohio to Chestnut; down Chestnut; over Mechanic's street bridge to Penn avenue; down Penn avenue to Eleventh; Eleventh to Liberty; Liberty to Sixth, and disperse.

The procession will start at ten o'clock punctually.

THE STOVE TRADE.

National Convention of Manufacturers in Cincinnati.

In answer to a widely-circulated call, the National Association of Stove Manufacturers met in Convention at College Hall, Cincinnati, on Wednesday, for the purpose of adopting such measures as would place the stove trade on a better footing through some concerted system of action.

The present Convention is an adjourned session of that held by the Association in New York, March 6th and 7th of this year.

At twelve o'clock, noon, quite a large number of members from Eastern and Western cities had assembled, when the President Mr. John S. Perry, of Albany, N. Y., took the chair.

The calling of the roll and reading of the minutes were dispensed with.

The session was opened with an address from the President, Mr. Perry, who spoke in reference to the encouraging condition in which the Association now worked for the objects of its organization. The membership comprised nearly all who were engaged in the manufacture of stoves, and better results had already been exhibited in the trade. In the course of his remarks the speaker offered some statistics which show that in the manufacture of stoves in the United States over $30,000,000 were required, employing 150,000 men, and giving a direct support to nearly 500,000 people. It was thought that the trade of this year would reach the sale of near 2,250,000 stoves. The address embraced a thorough review of the trade in its every aspect, and fully met the views of the Association.

At the conclusion of Mr. Perry's speech, Mr. Resor, of Cincinnati, delivered an address of welcome to the President and the members of the Association, which also involved a statistical account of the iron trade of the city.

The President then suggested such theories as he thought should receive thorough discussion at this meeting, among which were enumerated costs of stoves, freights, question of iron, members of the trade yet to be secured to the Association, effect upon the trade of the dissolution of this Association, discussion of improvements, etc.

The following Pittsburgh firms were represented: John B. Herron & Co., A. Bradley & Co., Anshutz & Sons, and Mitchell, Stevenson & Co.

Queen of the Road.

Among the great variety of plain and stylish carriages to be always seen at the extensive Bazaar of C. West & Co., Nos. 75, 77 and 79 Liberty street, will be found an improved patent Buck Wagon, quite peculiar in construction, very light, very strong and very cheap; the spring is unusually strong, and yet so flexible and its motions so easy and gentle, that we feel sure they will grow rapidly into popular favor and prove to be, as they are called, the "Queen of the Road." Ordees for them arecoming in rapidly F

Gentleman Pleasure Seekers who are hieing away to the sea shore to hear what the wild waves are saying, should first heed the advice of wise counsellors here by laying in a stock of clothing suitable for summer wear at the seaside from Urling, Follansbee & Co.'s, south-west corner of Wood street and Fifth avenue. They will find a full assortment from which to make selections, and cannot fail to have their fancies suited.

The Committee of the Pennsylvania Reform School, charged with the purchase of a farm, had a meeting yesterday. The chairman reported that several farms had been offered some of which had been visited. Only two or three, however, would suit the purposes of the school, and the prices asked for these are regarded as too high—except one on the Allegheny River, which a portion of the committee are in favor of purchasing. It was thought best, however, to defer a selection for the present, as proposals to sell are reaching the committee from various new quarters and there is no necessity for haste in action.

On Friday evening, says the Washington Examiner, a meeting of our citizens was held in the Court House to take action in regard to the eastern extension of the Hempfield Railroad. It was stated that five or six farmers residing between the borough line and Clokeyville refused to execute releases, and that it would probably require about $2,500 to liquidate the damages that would be awarded. A committee was appointed to wait upon our people and solicit subscriptions. We learn the committee have already obtained about $1,500. The remainder will probably be secured during the present week, in which event work on the line will be commenced at once.

To the Public.

The NORTH-WESTERN (BABCOCK,) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY having brought suit against the PHILADELPHIA (GARDNER,) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY, for alleged infringement of the Carlier and Vignon Patent, (dated April 13th, 1869,) which the said Babcock Company professes to own, in the use of water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas as a means of extinguishing fires, we desire to make the following statement, all of which, we are prepared to fully substantiate by proof:

First. The so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent is invalid for want of novelty, in that a patent was issued to W. H. Phillips in England, in 1844, and in this country in 1850, for a Fire Extinguisher, in which water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas was used as the extinguishing agent.

Second. The said so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent has no legal existence, no legal application ever having been made for it to the Patent Office; and its issuance therefrom was accomplished by gross fraud.

Third. The lawyers conducting this suit against us, brought suit for the same clients on the same Patent, against one Duryea, in the U. S. Court in New York, 1870, and the answer of Duryea being filed, setting forth the facts herein alluded to, said suit was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiffs.

The Babcock Company expects to destroy the sale of the Gardner Extinguisher, which has so seriously interfered with long-enjoyed monopoly, by extensively advertising this suit, and thus intimidating the public. It is our purpose to defeat their fraudulent design, and to this end, we will shortly publish a history of the matter, which will undeceive the public and expose the worthlessness of that sham, called the Carlier and Vignon Patent.

Copies will be mailed to any address on application. This company will give guarantees against all loss, damage or trouble for use of the Gardner Extinguisher, and will at its sole expense, defend all suits that may be brought against it.

D. B. Waggener, Secretary,
Philadelphia Fire Extinguisher Co.,
2 1306 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

TRAVELING TRUNKS.

A Few Suggestions.

Many of the articles belonging to a fashionable wardrobe require trunks of good size, and with various compartments. The dresses which are worn to-day need three times the room that was necessary for the dresses of a few years ago—and they must be properly packed, that is, they should not be crushed, or folded under other articles. Consequently, if a lady would preserve her wardrobe fresh and unwrinkled, the size and make of the trunk is a matter of the first necessity. For a long journey the sole leather trunk is the best—and the best that can be bought among them is the cheapest in the end. The purchaser has a trunk which has the full thickness of the hide, which is a consideration in these days when baggage smashing has become such a success. The prices range from $55 to 80. The shielded trunks which are quite ornamental, and which are warranted strong enough to stand the handling of the most expert baggage smasher, range from $15 up. Numerous other trunks which are strong enough for short trips are furnished with a hat box, one, and sometimes two trays, besides numerous other compartments. These trunks permit that orderly arrangement of the clothing which, as we have said, is a necessity which cannot be too highly prized. The upright trunk is also a very ornamental article, which combines the convenience of a toilet-table, a bureau and a trunk. Drawers which pull out like those of a bureau, with seperate sections, which are furnished with divisions and subdivisions for small articles, with compartments for writing paper, documents, etc., are among the things which commend it to ladies who spend the summer months in the small apartments to which we have alluded. Moderate sized traveling bags are of Russia leather. They are furnished with pockets, which contain about all the toilet articles which a lady would require upon a long journey; price from $7 to $11. Cheaper bags are of canvass, bound with leather. Russia leather or morocco belts which are in favor for the house are also adopted for traveling. From these, by means of a hook, are suspended parasols, and all small articles which are carried by the tourist. Willow lunch baskets, for travelers, cost from four to ten dollars, according to the size, and the number and quality of the articles which they contain. A tin lunch box, a plate, knife and fork, a flask, a tumbler, and a napkin constitute the furniture of the lowest priced basket. Pepper and salt boxes, with dishes for three, fill the higher priced baskets.

OAKDALE.

Grand Literary Entertainment by the Hemans and Irving Literary Societies of Oakdale Classical and Normal Institute—Charming Essays—Eloquent Orations—Enlivening Music.

A grand literary entertainment was given a few evenings since by the Hemans and Irving Literary Societies of Oakdale Classical and Normal Institute. The evening was sweltering hot, yet notwithstanding this a large number of persons were in attendance. The hall and school rooms have recently been enlarged, and the building is now one of the most beautiful and commodious in the country.

The National Cornet Band of Oakdale, was in attendance, and discoursed excellent Music. Although this band has not been organized over two years it has already attained to great popularity, and is regarded as one of the first in the country. It is under the leadership of that popular musician, Mr. Hugh M. Scott.

The exercises opened with prayer by Rev. M. N. Cornelius, after which Silas Gault delivered a Latin Salutatory.

Select oration. "Burr and Blennerhasset," Henry Aten. As Shakspeare says, "well spoken, with good accent and good discretion."

Original oration. "History." Thomas Duff. A scholarly production, and delivered in an almost faultless manner.

Select oration. "The Picket of the Potomac." Allie Wilson. An excellent performance, taking us back to the dark days of the Rebellion. The lady's position on the stage was easy and graceful, her gesture appropriate and her voice clear and musical. Boquets.

Original oration. Sallie M. Perkins. An excellent production, giving evidence of close thought and study. It was delivered in a charming manner, being entirely free from rant and sing-song. Miss Perkins spoke in a full, clear tone, and was distinctly heard in every part of the house. She did not weary the audience with a long rigmarole of nothing, as is common with some students, but gave her thoughts in a crisp, concise forcible way. This performance was the gem of the evening. More boquets.

Select oration—"On the shores of Tennessee," Jennie McMains. The selection by this lady did not give full scope to her elocutionary powers. Her recitation of "Jamie Douglass" at a former entertainment was a perfect gem, and many of the audience desired to hear it again. The lady bids fair to become a first-class elocutionist.

Select oration—"Mary, Queen of Scots," Jennie Anderson. Good selection, and the lady would make a fine reciter if she would abandon the plan of singing an occasional word, and singing too on such a high key. The tone didn't seem natural.

Allie Ewing poetized on the poetical subject of "The Watcher on the Tower." Judging from the lady's former productions, the poem might be pronounced good, but owing to the confusion in the hall at the time and the manner in which the poem was read, it was a difficult matter to hear the eighth part of it. The Oakdale students should remember that the Academy Hall has been enlarged.

Discussion—"Does the Pulpit afford a greater field for eloquence than the Bar?" Affirm, G. W. McVay. Deny, Alf Verner.

Good, but too long. The debaters should not have inflicted so much on the audience on such a sweltering night. One-half the talk on Pentecost might have been left out, and the vexed question would have been quite as well settled with two as with five speeches. Mr. McVay is a fine orator. He has a full, round voice and speaks with much earnestness and force. Mr. Verner is a clear thinker and a sound reasoner.

One of the finest performances of the evening was by Miss Annie Johnston, a little girl, "scarce three feet high." She sung an amusing song in an amusing way, and was loudly applauded. Considering the age of the singer this was certainly the best musical performance of the entertainment. This little lady and another somewhat larger, Miss Bertie Short, gave two instrumental pieces in fine style. Among the other musical features of the entertainment might be named, "The Distant Chimes" by Aggie Sturgeon, Belle Chubbic, and Mattie Berry; "Fairy Wedding Waltz" by Jennie Stonecipher; and "The Photograph" by Prof. S. C. Farren and Miss L. Belle Purviance. Miss Purviance is the teacher of music in Oakdale Institute, and the performance of her pupils at the entertainment testified to her ability. As a singer she is charming.

The original orations "Wasted Work" and "Earth's Battle Fields," and the essays "In every Desert there is a Spring, Behind each Cloud a Star" and "Every Light has some Shadow," were productions highly creditable to the authors.

The Valedictory was given by Miss Lue J. Johns. Miss J. is a fine writer and a pleasing speaker. After the Valedictory Miss Beckie J. Tannerhill in a neat speech presented to the Principal, Prof. Silas Cooke, a valuable watch chain; to the Assistant Principal, Mrs. A. T. Douthett, an elegant photographic album; and to Prof. F. J. Cooke, something in a box, but kept the audience in the dark as to what that something was. Mrs. Douthett's reply was truly beautiful.

Mr. County Superintendent Douthett, the irrepressible Tom, was on the stage, and in his happiest vein. He made some remarks in regard to education in general and education in Oakdale in particular, and announced that Prof. Cooke had severed his connection with the institute, and that Prof. Patterson would take his place. Prof. Cooke then made some valedictory remarks, giving a brief history of the rise and progress of the Oakdale Institute, making some telling hits, and closing with a peroration truly grand and touching. Prof. Cooke is a gentleman of the true type, a noble and an earnest man, and the students and citizens of Oakdale will regret his departure.
